GENTLEMEN,

I am,

Gentlemen,

Your obedient Servant,

REPORT
INTERMEDIATE EDUCATION BOARD
FOR IRELAND
FOR THE YEAR 1919.

TO HIS EXCELLENCY JOHN DENTON PINKSTONE
VISCOUNT FRENCH OF YPRES,
LORD LIBUTENANT-GENERAL AND GENERAL GOVERNOR OF IRELAND.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY,

We, the Commissioners of Intermediate Education (Ireland), submit to your Excellency this our Forty-first Report.

The number of schools which consented to inspection under the rules of the Board for the school year 1918-19 was 362, being an increase of 5 on the number for the previous school year.

Nine of these schools either withdrew or failed to satisfy the definition of school in the Board's rules and were, accordingly, ineligible to share in any grant payable by the Board in respect of work done during the school year 1918-19. Four others were refused recognition under the rules relating to the Additional Parliamentary Grant. This grant, and the Teachers' Salaries Grant which forms the subject of a separate report, are, in accordance with the rules hitherto in force, payable in the financial year ending 31st March in respect of the work done in the school year last completed before that date.

The following table shows the number of schools, as classified, and the number of pupils between the ages of 12 and 19 on 1st October, 1918, on the rolls of the schools on that date.

	Number of Schools.	NUMBER OF STUDENTS.
		Boys.	Girls.	Total.
Boys	160	14,086	14,086
Girls	151	—	9,107

The corresponding totals for the previous school year were, respectively, as follows, viz.:—357, 14,041, 9,071, 23,112.

The number of students who gave notice of their intention to present themselves for examination in 1919 was:—

being an increase of 155, or 1·9 per cent., in the case of boys, and an increase of 45, or 0·82 per cent., in the case of girls; and a total increase of 200, or 1·5 per cent., on the corresponding numbers in 1918; and a total increase of 8·2 per cent., on the corresponding numbers in 1917.

REGISTER OF TEACHERS.

The Register of the Intermediate School Teachers in Ireland, formed by the Board in accordance with Regulations made by the Registration Council under the Intermediate Education (Ireland) Act, 1914, was published on the 31st December, 1919. The register contains the names and approved qualifications of the teachers registered from the date of its inception up to the 31st December, 1919, with the names of the schools in which their qualifying experience in teaching was obtained. Altogether, 2,159 teachers have been registered up to the 31st December, 1919, of whom 244 were registered during the year 1919.

FINANCE.

The present position of Irish Secondary Education from the point of view of Finance demands the most careful and immediate attention of His Majesty's Government. The position is in our opinion extremely critical and threatens a very serious breakdown throughout the country if ameliorative steps are not immediately taken. In our reports for the last three years we have emphasised the importance of increased grants and have further, with ever increasing stress, called attention to the matter in a long series of letters to the Irish Government. The reply finally given to our repeated requests was that "the settlement of the matter awaits the passage of promised legislation." Almost eight months have passed since this reply was given; but the legislation is still in exactly the same position as it then was. Meantime matters have been getting steadily worse in the schools, and a complete collapse seems to be not far distant. Money could wisely be spent in a variety of ways as outlined in our Report for 1916; but we wish particularly to draw the attention of Your Excellency and of His Majesty's Government to the present deplorable position of the teachers in Irish Secondary Schools, and to urge that something should be done, and done immediately, to improve their condition. The most casual glance through our last Report upon the distribution of the Teachers' Salaries Grant is sufficient to indicate a state of affairs which at the present time is little short of disgraceful. Out of a total of 1,349 lay teachers, only 100 are in receipt of a salary of £200 per annum, and of these 31 are heads of schools; while about 30 per cent. of the whole number of lay teachers are in receipt of salaries of less than £100 per annum. The state of the majority of the assistant teachers can, therefore, be imagined when it is remembered that the purchasing value of £200 to-day is equivalent to that of about £80 before the war.

When the above facts are considered it is hardly to be wondered at that during the present year a strike of teachers in certain Irish Secondary Schools for a living wage has actually occurred. A protest of this sort is unique in this country, and is to be deplored; but it can readily be understood when it is remembered that fully qualified teachers in Secondary Schools are worse paid than most unskilled workers. Under the circumstances the problem before the managers of schools of finding recruits for their teaching staff or even of retaining the services of their present teachers is fast becoming, or rather has already become, a well nigh impossible one. Already during the present school year many schools have been compelled to stop the teaching of important subjects which had formerly figured in their curriculum because they could not get a single applicant for the vacant post. In other cases, some of the best teachers have already left Ireland to take up teaching at double or treble the salary in England or Scotland, while others have abandoned teaching altogether, as they can obtain higher wages in almost any other line of work. A disquieting feature is that in such cases it is the best members of the staff who leave; and where it is possible to replace them at all, this can only be done by accepting applicants whose qualifications are such that a few years ago their applications would not have been considered for a moment.

While this has already happened, the prospects for the future are still more gloomy. Many teachers have already intimated their intention of relinquishing their present posts at the end of the school year. In some schools the whole of the teaching staff intend to go.

Recently an important and valuable step was taken by the establishment of a Register of Intermediate School Teachers in Ireland. At the very beginning of its career the Register is threatened with extinction, for it is almost ludicrous to suppose that men and women will go through the course of training necessary to qualify for registration while the conditions and prospects remain as they are at present.

There is another important aspect of this question which is likely to result in serious injustice being inflicted on a large number of schools. According to the rules for the distribution of the Additional Parliamentary Grant, in order to qualify for a share of the grant a school must, inter alia, have on its staff a certain number of registered teachers. There is grave reason to fear, unless something is done immediately to ease the situation, that in the coming year a considerable number of schools, especially among those which depend upon the employment of lay teachers, will find it impossible to retain or secure the requisite number of such teachers. The grants paid to these schools will, therefore, in all probability be seriously diminished, and this will involve a corresponding aggravation of their present financial difficulties.

The school authorities are, at least in the majority of cases, doing everything they can. In many instances they have strained their financial credit to the utmost in the endeavour to pay more reasonable salaries to their teachers. Many of the schools have raised their fees, and have in spite of this been compelled to run into debt. This has been done in the hope that the situation may be only temporary, and that it will soon be relieved by Government aid. Such a state of affairs can hardly continue; and, if the present school year closes without some definite scheme having been adopted, it is to be feared that the situation of many of the schools will be almost hopeless.

The amounts which the Board have been able to distribute in grants to the schools during the last three financial years are as follows:—

1917-18	141,038 8 5
1918-19	135,143 17 1
1919-20	130,458 9 7

There has thus been a diminution in three years of almost £10,600 in the grants available for schools. This diminution is entirely due to the fact that our income is a fixed one and that we have to defray out of this fixed income the whole of the administrative expenses and also to provide for certain loans under the rules. The vicious effects of this system of inelastic funds have been fully set forth in our previous reports. As a palliative we have again and again made a request for a grant in aid to cover all the administrative expenses, but so far without any success.

In England, and in other Educational Departments in Ireland, the administrative expenses are not defrayed out of the same fund as that provided for grants to schools; and so the unavoidable increase in the expense of administration resulting from war conditions has not involved a decrease in the amounts available for grants. The position, therefore, of the Irish Secondary Schools is unique. As their financial embarrassments increase the aid which they receive decreases, while they see the grants paid to schools in England and Scotland largely increased.

We, therefore, desire again to impress upon your Excellency the necessity of moving His Majesty's Government to ask Parliament for a Grant in aid sufficient to meet the whole of the administrative expenses of the Board, and thus enable them to allocate the funds now at their disposal for the enlargement of their Grants to schools.

The administrative expenses of the Board have naturally considerably increased during the period under review, though owing to the efforts made to cut down avoidable expenditure in every possible way, the increase is surprisingly small under the circumstances. In many cases increases have been due to direct action of the Government and were, therefore, altogether beyond the control of the Board. This is so with regard to postage and travelling expenses. It is anomalous in any case that the Board, more than half of whose income is derived from voted money, has not yet been accorded the privilege of free postage or free telephones.

But in addition to our requests for a grant in aid, we have in each of our last three reports called attention to the inadequacy of the funds placed at our disposal and have emphasised the claim of Ireland to a large increase in the sums devoted to Secondary Education.

In our last report a comparison was instituted between the treatment of Secondary Education in England and in Ireland. We find again in the Estimates for the year 1920-21 a further large increase in the Grants for Secondary Schools, etc., in England.

The increases during the last three years have been :—

1918-19	172,470
1919-20	222,090
1920-21	281,813

making a total increase during the three years of £676,373.

As we mentioned in our last report, a definite promise was given in the House of Commons on 4th March, 1918, by the then Solicitor-General for Ireland, that equivalent grants would be made for Irish Secondary Education. Apart altogether from a definite promise, which still remains unfulfilled, we are at a loss to understand why Irish Secondary Education should not be dealt with as liberally as English or Scottish. On the accepted basis of equivalent grants there is in respect of the year 1918-19 an amount due to Irish Secondary Education of about £20,000; in respect of 1919-20 a deficit of about £44,000; and in respect of 1920-21 a deficit of about £76,000.

To carry out the promise above referred to the Board should, therefore, receive an addition of about £140,000, thus making the total vote for the present year amount to £230,000, instead of £90,000, and this quite apart from the question of the grant in aid already referred to.

That the justice of these claims is practically acknowledged by the Government is evident from the financial provisions of the Bill at present before the House of Commons; and we would urge upon Your Excellency in the strongest possible manner the necessity, if disaster is to be avoided, of taking steps immediately to make the sums asked for available before the end of the present school year.

As was pointed out in our last report, even if these sums were made available the resources at our disposal for the furtherance of Secondary Education would not bear comparison with those available for similar purposes in Great Britain, where large sums are contributed from the rates.

We have felt it our duty to bring these facts under Your Excellency's notice. One of the features of the post-war period throughout the whole civilised world is the emphasis which is being placed upon the urgent necessity for more and better education. It is in such circumstances deplorable that the educational system in Ireland, far from having a chance of improvement, is at the present moment face to face with ruin. The situation is one which in our opinion demands the most careful and immediate attention from His Majesty's Government.

APPENDIX II.

THE BURKE MEMORIAL PRIZES.

A sum of money, subscribed in memory of the late THOMAS HENRY BURKE, Esq., Under Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant, was transferred by the Burke Memorial Committee, on 18th March. 1884, to the Intermediate Education Board for Ireland, who undertook to administer in accordance with the following Rules (the sum funded is £1,282 18s. 5d. Consols) :—

I. The annual income from the fund shall be applied in paying three Prizes, one of £16, one of £10, and a second of £10; any surplus or deficiency to be apportioned in the same ratio. If, in the opinion of the Commissioners, sufficient merit be not shown by the Candidates competing to justify the award of any or either of the Prizes, the amount of such Prize may be, at the discretion of the Board, withheld and added to the principal.

II. No student shall be qualified to receive these Prizes except the children of persons who are, or have been, in receipt of salary or pension in Ireland, paid out of money derived from Parliamentary Grants, Rates or Taxes, other than members of the Naval or Military Services not being also in Civil employment.

III. The Prizes shall be awarded as follows :—that of £16 to the Boy whom, at the annual Examination in the Junior Grade among Male Candidates qualified in the manner expressed in the next preceding Rule, the Board shall adjudge to be the best answerer; One Prize of £10 to the Boy whom, in the same Grade at such Examination, the Board shall adjudge to be the next best answerer; and the other of £10 to the Girl whom, at such Examination in the same Grade, among Female Candidates qualified in the manner aforesaid, the Board shall adjudge to be the best answerer.

IV. The decision of the Board shall be final and decisive in determining whether the Candidates fulfil the conditions of the third Rule.

V. The Board may deduct all expenses connected with the trust from the yearly income.

APPENDIX III.

Extract from Scheme framed under the Educational Endowments (Ireland) Act, 1885, for the future government and management of

THE CHARLEVILLE ENDOWMENT.

* * * * *

4. The arrears and accumulations of the Endowments, due at the date of this Scheme, shall be invested by the Board in such securities as they may think fit, and shall constitute part of the capital of the Endowment. The net annual income of the Endowment, after providing for any necessary outgoings, shall be paid or distributed in each calendar year commencing after the date of this Scheme, by the Board, at such time as the Board shall think fit, to or among the School or Schools situated in the Charleville District which shall be entitled, in the same year, to receive from the Board Results Fees for Pupils; and the distribution shall be made in the same proportions in which such Results Fees shall have been awarded. Provided that no School shall receive, in any year, from the Endowment, more than Six Pounds in respect of each pupil of the School who shall have passed the Examinations of the Board for that year. If in any year any part of the net annual income of the Endowment shall remain over, after provision shall have been made for the payments hereinbefore authorized, such part shall be carried forward, and may be dealt with as part of the income to be distributed in the following year, or may be further carried forward to the succeeding year, as the Board may think fit. If any question shall arise as to the amount payable as aforesaid, or as to the qualification of any School, or as to the division or distribution of the income aforesaid, the decision of the Board on every such question shall be final.

If from want of qualified Schools situated in the Charleville District, or from want of a sufficient number of pupils passing the Examinations of the Board, or from any other cause, the amount carried forward as aforesaid shall at any time amount to £50, the whole or any part of this sum may be offered by way of Exhibitions or Prizes for competition, in the succeeding year, among the pupils coming up to the Examinations of the Board from the Charleville District, or failing a sufficient number of these, among the pupils coming up to the Examinations of the Board from the Counties of Cork, Limerick, and Tipperary, in such manner, and subject to such conditions, as the Board shall from time to time determine, or may be invested and added to the capital of the Endowment, and the income thereof may be added to the net annual income of the Endowment, as the Board may think fit.
